

The NYC Metro RID Professional Development Committee brings you:

Demand-Control Schema / Supervision & Case Conferencing

Presented by: Robyn Dean, MA, CI, CT

In this two-day presentation, participants will be exposed to the demand-control schema for interpreting, a practice-profession approach to the interpreting field. This new topic of conversation for the interpreting field embraces the human issues of interpreting and establishes ground rules for dialogue about interpreting work.

Saturday, February 6, 2010

9:00 am to 5:00 pm

Demand-Control Schema

Sunday, February 7, 2010

9:00 am to 5:00 pm

Supervision & Case Conferencing

Hunter College

68th Street & Lexington Avenue

East Building, Room 1220

- Open to all interpreters and IEP students
- Conducted in spoken English with ASL interpretation
- Deadline for registration is January 25, 2010 (No refunds available after January 1, 2010)
- 1.3 CEU/ACET credits in professional studies (.65 credits for 2/6 only, 1.3 credits for both days)
- Visit www.NYCMetroRID.org or email PDC@NYCMetroRID.org for more information

Robyn Dean, MA, CI/CT Ms. Dean holds a BA in ASL Interpreting and an MA in Theology. Ms. Dean's recent application of demand-control theory to sign language interpreting has been the topic of numerous workshops, publications, and grant projects. Her contribution to interpreter education was recognized in 2008 with the Mary Stotler Award, conferred by the Registry of Interpreters for the Deaf and the Conference of Interpreter Trainers.

CEUs provided courtesy of the New York City Department of Education CMP

Detach registration and send with check or money order to: NYC Metro RID, JAF Station, PO Box 8378, New York, NY 10116 education ■ standards ■ excellence

RID

Registry of Interpreters for the Deaf, Inc.

ACET →
ASSOCIATE CONTINUING EDUCATION TRACKING

Name: _____

Address: _____

Phone Number: _____ (voice/vp)

RID ID #: _____

Email: _____

Demand Control/Supervision &
Case Conferencing: 2/6 & 2/7 *

$150 – NYC Metro Members
$175 – Non-members

Demand Control only: 2/6
$100 – NYC Metro Members
$120 – Non-members

Note: You must complete Demand-Control to attend Supervision & Case Conferencing. If you have previously taken Demand-Control with Robyn Dean, you may register for only the Supervision segment. Contact the PDC at PDC@NYCMetroRID.org for a waiver.