

“The Ethics of Work”

RID's oldest founding member Lillian Beard, who recently passed away at 101 years old, started interpreting publicly in Houston in 1924. Lillian challenged and inspired interpreters to focus on where they should put their energy in practical ways in order to do their very best work. View video clips of Lillian's stories that illustrate her work ethics and apply them to your work today. You will be encouraged to reflect on your practice and professional development in order to provide the highest standard of service. The work ethics presented should resonate with every thinking person in the audience.

*Conducted in ASL without English Interpretation ****

$20 - general OR $30 - certified interpreters/ACET members

Wednesday, October 13, 2010

6:00—9:00 pm

LaGuardia Community College, M Building, Little Theater

RID Certificate Maintenance Program (CMP)/ Associate Continuing Education Tracking (ACET) The CUNY Interpreter Education Project has been approved by the RID CMP/ACET to sponsor Continuing Education Activities. This program is offering 0.3 CEU's in Professional studies and has an instructional level of intermediate. For cancellation and accessibility policy, please call (718) 482-5313.

Bill Moody, a Houston, TX native and former student of Lillian Beard's, has been an interpreter in the New York City Deaf community since 1976 (with an interlude working in French Sign Language in Paris from 1977-84). He specializes in theatrical interpreting on- and off-Broadway, and works part-time for the NYC public schools. In addition, he runs a freelance practice, which includes interpreting in International Sign Language for conferences around the world.

Pre-registration Required!

To register online: <http://peopleware.net/ace>. Select "Interpreter Education Projects - Fall 2010." Select "A16INT905A - The Ethics of Work" and follow the prompts.

To register by phone: Call the Registration Office at 718-482-7244. Provide the course-code: A16INT905A.

Deadline: October 1, 2010

For more information, contact Ashley Graham:
718.482.5313 (V), agraham@lagcc.cuny.edu, or
917.832.1272 (VP)

